Welcome to Purbeck Art Weeks 2025!

We are delighted to be offering such an exciting mix of exhibitions, Open Studios, concerts, performances, talks and workshops, showcasing exceptional local and international talent. All the details are here in our Festival Brochure and on our website.

Our artists will welcome you to their Open Studios where you'll find unique paintings, sculpture, glass work, textiles, ceramics and more.

Rollington Barn (near Corfe Castle), the festival hub, hosts our extensive collective exhibition – here you can find out about all our concerts, talks and other activities. It's a great place to start your visit – with a delicious light lunch or wicked cakes and coffee in the Courtyard Café. Next to the café is our Pop-Up Studio tent with different artists in action every day – and across the way in the Byre is an imaginative display of work on the theme of Myths, Monsters and Legends by young people involved in our Purbeck Young Artists scheme.

At the far end of the Byre you will find this year's interactive installation – a kinetic sculpture called 'Scrolling' by Emma Browning. Do go along and have a scroll.

New on the visual arts front is an exhibition of emerging and established artists in the National Trust Castle View Welcome Centre – during the second week of PAW only.

Music lovers are in for a treat, with an exceptional line-up of concerts spanning centuries of sound. Expect everything from early baroque masterpieces to lively 20th-century Latin rhythms to experimental electronic fusion from Finland, performed by some of the finest musicians from around the world. This includes our new mini-festival weekend (Fri 30 May – Sun 1 June) where you can immerse yourself in captivating vocal and instrumental performances.

Local award-winning author Nick Jubber and Dorset folk musician/story teller Tim Laycock come together for a one-night-only celebration and exploration of stories, from Purbeck ghost tales to vampire stories from Eastern Europe and more. And once again the Purbeck Poets will be offering their friendly open mic poetry evening.

Do get involved and come to one of our workshops – there is a singing workshop for all levels with Stile Antico, a writing workshop for adults and a story-telling workshop for children (4-8yrs) with Nick Jubber.

We hope you all find something to inspire, enjoy and excite you, during our celebration of the arts and community in Purbeck!

Foreword

FROM THE FESTIVAL PRESIDENT

Philip Jackson CVO DL MA FRBS

Welcome to this year's Purbeck Art Weeks Festival!

Some 333 years ago at the Queen's Theatre in London Henry Purcell staged the first performance of his new opera The Fairy Queen. Purcell sadly died three years later at the age of 36 and the score was lost only being rediscovered in the twentieth century. There have been many performances since this rediscovery most notably at Glyndebourne in 2009 in celebration of the 350th anniversary of the composer's birth. PAW this year is staging Purcell's great Restoration Spectacular as a community opera with several local schools involved in the music and the creation of stage scenery. Based on Shakespeare's text for 'A Midsummer Night's Dream' Purcell had the parts of Titania and Oberon played by children aged 8 and 9, so this schools and community production is more than appropriate and very much as Purcell would have wanted.

For those of you who have visited PAW Festival before there will be many familiar events and exhibitions, and several extra exciting events and exhibitions to explore. In keeping with the theme of fairies and magical creatures Nick Jubber, with Tim Laycock, will be giving a talk about his fascinating new book 'Monsterland'. In addition to the tremendous work on display at the Rollington Barn there is the 'The Spirit of PAW' collective exhibition during the second week, featuring the work of emerging artists and is a 'must see'. One of my favourite tasks during the festival is to visit some of the many Open Studios where artists talk about their work, demonstrate their skills and provide a wonderful opportunity for the visitor to buy unique works of art.

This year's exciting programme has been put together by the dedicated, extremely hard working and visionary PAW Festival team. Once again, I thank them profusely for their skill and hard work. I know you will be thrilled by what they have achieved.

Philip, PAW President

WE'VE GONE GREEN

PAW
Tombola
Have you bought your ticket to win a piece of original artwork?

The tombola stall will be open from 10am – 12pm on weekdays and 10am – 3pm at weekends. Ticket (£5).

Scrolling

– a kinetic sculpture by Emma Browning

The sculpture is titled “Scrolling” to reflect the journey we have made from the tactile act of turning pages in books to the seamless scrolling of digital information today.

Audience participation is an integral aspect of this piece. So you are invited to physically engage with the sculpture by manually rotating the books on their axes. This interaction brings the pages to life, triggering a flickering, cascading motion that simulates the flow of information. The movement of the books reflects the boundless reach of knowledge today, where, in the age of AI and instantaneous digital access, information pours forth without limits.

I have drawn inspiration from the mechanics of automata toys, so I hope you find the design accessible and engaging.

Do come and have a go!

If you would like to meet the artist I will be there from 2pm on Saturday 24 May and 7 June.

The Spirit of Rollington Revisited

Charlotte Fereday

I sketched over 100 visitors to Rollington Barn during PAW last year. Many people shared stories with me about their connections to PAW and to each other and these stories have stayed with me over the months as I turned charcoal sketches into stitches.

The finished piece will be on display at Rollington this year, along with a small number of signed and numbered copies of a book about the project.

OUR CONCERTS AND EVENTS

PAW Festival 2025 bursts with music, storytelling, and artistic inspiration across three vibrant weekends, featuring nine concerts, an open mic poetry event, an illustrated talk and three workshops.

We open with the theatrical Apollo's Cabinet, a multi-award-winning ensemble that, with soprano Angela Hicks, brings to life the captivating story of 18th-century actress Kitty Clive. The Spanish-Portuguese string trio Ayres Extemporae will deliver virtuosic interpretations of J.S. Bach and his predecessors, joined by PAW's music director, soprano Hannah Ely.

The festival's final weekend includes a coffee concert at Encombe House and an illustrated talk on myths and monsters with award-winning local author Nick Jubber, and Tim Laycock. It culminates in a magical outdoor performance of Purcell's The Fairy Queen at Careys Secret Garden, where professional musicians and local children unite in an enchanting, picnic-style event—capturing all that PAW stands for.

Angela Hicks plays actress, soprano and London stage star Kitty Clive (1711–1785), who had a unique command of the 18th-century theatre world. Born as Catherine Raftor in 1711 and rising to fame as Mrs Clive, she negotiated the raucous, fast-moving, and sometimes unforgiving London scene with intelligence and grace. In this programme, multiple award-winning ensemble, Apollo's Cabinet, explores her world, shines a light on the vocal genres in which she excelled, and celebrates the vibrancy of mid-18th-century theatre performances through the instrumental publications that they inspired, including music by Handel, Arne and Geminiani.

“It’s never a good idea to miss a concert from this British vocal ensemble: there are no finer singers of early music”
 NEW YORK TIMES

THE PRINCE OF MUSIC STILE ANTICO

PAW Festival welcomes back the vocal ensemble Stile Antico, as it marks its twentieth season by honouring the undisputed master of the style that gives the group its name: Giovanni Pierluigi da Palestrina, whose quincentenary falls in 2025.

This programme explores the music he would have sung at the Sistine Chapel, the changes in his style demanded by the Counter-Reformation, his tragic personal life, and his influence on his successors. The repertoire is sumptuous, including several of Palestrina’s most beloved and timeless motets, gems by other leading composers active in Rome, and a new work by leading British composer Cheryl Frances-Hoad, written especially for this programme.

SINGING WORKSHOP WITH STILE ANTICO

Join Stile Antico members, Helen and Kate Ashby, Cara Curran, Matthew Howard and James Arthur, for a vocal workshop for experienced singers to explore the music of Palestrina, looking at some of the repertoire from the previous evening’s concert which celebrates this much-loved composer in his 500th anniversary year. The singers will explore aspects of small vocal ensemble singing as well as approaches to singing in the sacred early style.

Please sign-up in advance by either completing the online form at www.purbeckartweeksfestival.co.uk/events/ or by emailing Hannah Ely: hannah.ely@hotmail.co.uk to let us know your voice-type and a brief description of the singing / choral experience you have (eg. choir(s) you sing with, any sightreading experience, repertoire...). The ability to sightread is helpful, but not a requirement, and music will be sent in advance.

Calling All Artists

PAW invites applications from both visual and performing artists who are seeking assistance with taking the next step in progressing their creative career.

We have established a PAW festival Bursary Fund to encourage and support Purbeck artists of all disciplines. To date we have made awards to help develop careers in painting, life drawing, printmaking, photography, music, ballet, contemporary dance, opera singing, stone carving and silversmithing.

You could be next!

Amy

We are delighted that we have been able to support Amy Jerman (2024) in the next stage of her musical career, and Mai Grimaldi (2024) in her ambitions to become a wild-life photographer. We wish them both the very best of luck for the future.

Amy Jerman “Until receiving this bursary, I didn’t own my own clarinet and could only learn thanks to an instrument kindly loaned to me by Purbeck Youth Music. Thanks to PAW, I’ve now been able to buy my own high-quality clarinet, which will support me through Grade 8+ repertoire and allow me to perform in ensembles around Purbeck.”

Mai

Mai Grimaldi “I cannot express how thankful I am to the PAW team. It means the world to me that you are happy to invest in my passion as well as my future.” Mai’s work can be seen in our exhibition for emerging artists in the Castle View Visitor Centre, Corfe Castle.

MI-MICRANTHES STELLARIS ENSEMBLE GAMUT!

Aino Peltomaa voice, medieval harp, percussion, electronics
Juho Myllylä blockflutes, electronics, voice
Ilkka Heinonen jouhikko, electronics, voice

Ensemble Gamut! is a fresh, experimental collective of early music and folk music specialists, who create their unique sound by combining, and daringly rearranging, elements from medieval music and Finnish folk songs with improvisation and electronic soundscapes. In this late-night concert, ‘MI’ explores the boundary between the living and the non-living, asking what is alive and what has already faded into extinction. Medieval flower-themed chant repertoire blends with Aino Peltomaa’s own compositions and texts on Arctic endangered flowers. These are interwoven with a rich musical soundscape that combines voice, harp, bells, Karelian bowed lyres, medieval blockflutes, and electronic textures.

CUBAROQUE

With songs from 17th-century Europe (Monteverdi and Purcell) and modern Latin America (Rodriguez, Jara and others), two golden ages of song are juxtaposed in Cubaroque. This is a unique and unusual programme that invites listeners into wonderful, evocative music that reflects eternal human themes: love, loss, fear, ecstasy, and much more besides.

Nicholas Mulroy, Elizabeth Kenny and Toby Carr offer performances of songs that are separated by time and space, but united by much else, and find expression in music full of beauty and unflinching truth. This pairing of old and new conveys a sense that, while the world turns and changes, people do not.

“... tenor Nicholas Mulroy’s glorious singing, the diction clear, the phrasing natural, the voice supple and multi-hued ... Toby Carr and Elizabeth Kenny transcend stylistic categories to bring surprising colours, expressive textures and a wistful intimacy to the songs, whether solo or together.” Gramophone,

GUITAR CLASSICS WITH CRAIG OGDEN COFFEE CONCERT

Craig Ogden is one of the most sought after classical guitarists of our time, whose career has included a stream of best-selling albums, appearances with the world's finest orchestras and a regular presence on BBC Radio 3 and Classic FM. This is a rare opportunity to listen to Craig as a soloist up close in the intimacy of Encombe's beautiful entrance hall, performing a wide range of guitar favourites.

Festival Friends can enjoy the wonderful gardens both before and after the concert.

We are very grateful to James and Arabello Gaggero for their generous hospitality.

“This is the real thing: a hugely enjoyable potpourri of pieces that...have not only been firm recital favourites of Ogden's over the years but of lovers of classical guitar everywhere.

Purbeck Young Artists' (PYA) exhibition in the Byre at Rollington Barn 2024

Purbeck Young Artists Scheme

At the heart of PAW is a passion for bringing art to as many young people in our Purbeck community as we can. Every year we work with fantastic local artists with a wealth of experience to deliver amazing workshops in schools all around Purbeck. We work closely with local schools to celebrate and encourage art, and each year we involve around 500 young people in creative activities. This year there are a record number of schools involved working with 7 artists and the range of workshops includes, glass art, puppet making, painting banners, clay making and 3D art using recycled materials. Workshops and artwork from the schools are based on the festival theme, which this year is 'Myths, Monsters and Legends'. Three of the workshops will create props and scenery for the performance of The Fairy Queen on 7 June (see page 57). We hope that you will come and see the inspiring results in The Byre at Rollington Barn.

COMMUNITY ART

As always, we would like to express our heartfelt gratitude to The Friends of the Festival and to all our Sponsors for supporting our work with young people. Without their amazing generosity, we would not have so many opportunities to spread the passion for art to as many schools as we do. We would also like to thank the schools and teachers involved this year for recognising the importance of art for young people and creating some incredibly imaginative artwork.

The PYA exhibition opening event will be held in The Byre on Friday May 24th 4.00pm – 5.00 pm. It will be a celebration not to be missed with refreshments, live music and an opportunity for you and your children to have a go at some art yourselves. We hope you will come and join us for some arty fun.

As one of the teachers said 'the workshop opened the door for the class to see that art is more than just paint and paper, but also that you can mix the natural world with artists' ideas'.

Kim's work is both a celebration of the Dorset landscape but also an exploration of the human condition – the constant search for meaning, which seems almost always over the next horizon. Through her work she tries to capture that innate curiosity and desire to make clear what evades us. Her painting is both a literal interpretation of the Dorset landscape but also an expression of feeling through mark making, composition and colour – as an attempt to capture both our internal and external landscapes. Ever changing, shifting and surprising us.
